

Shiba Kenzo (KENZO) Token

Shibakenzo (KENZO) is the world's first Shiba meme token, available on a unique, upcoming yield farming site. The Shibakenzo (KENZO) however has its initial PRE SALE plans dropped prior to the decision of the community through a voting mechanism to go for a FAIR LAUNCH.

The Shibakenzo (KENZO) however is a project which is community driven, we announce a fair launch, that is, token is to be distributed fairly to the market participants. The company's intent with the meme token is to bring cryptocurrency to the mainstream and give people an opportunity to be a part of a non-partisan cryptocurrency ecosystem. This is also the desire of our esteemed community.

Fair Launch – a concept where a Developer decides to not seek outside investment and also does not hold back a share of a coin or token's launch for themselves or others. At Shibakenzo, we consider this to be much fairer to our early investors as their share of equity or ownership of their KENZO token is not diluted by pre-investors or founders or founding teams.

As times for crypto projects release dates approaches, developers and owners decide the modus operandi of powering their ecosystem, they have to decide how best to allocate tokens to users, supporters, and investors. Effecting lessons from years of experience in the crypto space, the Shibakenzo (KENZO) is being stringent on its mission to bring crypto-fueled equality to the populace, preparing a fair launch to start off right with a truly decentralized, engaged community. Shibakenzo's approach to a fair launch intends to shatter a revolution of pervasive, biased crypto launches.

KENZO is a native BEP-20 compliant token. This approach ensures speedy transactions and security, as well as compatibility with other third-party services, and can be purchased through PancakeSwap. The Shibakenzo has 10% of its fund allocated for product development, 10% for the team which will be locked and vested which will only be available for withdrawal after the vesting period has passed, and 5% for marketing. The remaining 75% is scheduled to go for sale.

Users of KENZO can earn five percent of each transaction, which will be redistributed to holders and automatically adds five percent to the liquidity pool. While this is standard tokenomics, what makes the Shiba Kenzo (KENZO) token unique is that it is a meme token with an actual use case. Purchasers will be able to stake their Shiba Kenzo (KENZO) tokens on their own upcoming yield farming site, which means buyers will earn a lot more yield than a regular meme token on the market. The yield farming site is expected to launch in the fourth quarter.

The shibakenzo has a team with vast experience of over a decade of operational and programming knowledge. This experience led to the creation of the world's first shiba meme token that offers distinctive yield farm.

Due to the complexity of the crypto space, the company is creating a series of step-by-step tutorial videos that goes into basic concepts of how to buy the Shiba Kenzo (KENZO) token. Shibakenzo complies with all the necessary KYC/AML procedures protecting both its project and its users from fraudulent activities.
